

Detailed performance reports on ichnological science outreach activities

*Kentaro Izumi¹

1. Faculty & Graduate School of Education, Chiba University

This study reports detailed information about ichnological science outreach activities recently performed by the author, by focusing on several examples. During the presentation, actual materials used during outreach activities and deliverables of such activities will also be presented in order to provide practical visualization. In addition, feedbacks to these outreach activities are addressed.

Keywords: Trace fossils, Outreach activities, Performance reports