

Protection effects of gasotransmitters against oxidation damager in vascular endothelial cells

*Shigeki Yoshida<sup>1</sup>

1. University of Tsukuba

Reactive oxygen species (ROS) are chemical species which cause cellular damage. In this presentation, I introduce protection effects of gasotransmitters against oxidation damager, and functional food components with promotion effects of gasotransmitter production.

Keywords: oxidative stress, functional food components