

Geoscientific terminology in school education: For future perspectives on geoscientific education

*Takayuki Ogata¹

1. Disaster Prevention Research Center for Island Regions, University of the Ryukyus

Geoscientific education is mainly programmed in upper secondary school subjects "Geography" and "Earth Science" in Japan. School curriculums are partly unsuitable for advanced geoscience, and tend to be based on multi-standard terminology. Future perspectives on geoscientific education requires a discussion on relationship between geoscience and school education in Japan.

Keywords: Geoscience, School education, Terminology