Development of human resource for engineer using project-based learning or active learning

Motoi Nakao1 (1.Kyushu Inst. Tech.)

Keywords: PBL, Active Learning

According to rapid progress of science and technology, a paradigm shift from previous education system in university is demanded. The one of the solution is project-based learning / problem based learning (PBL) or active learning (AL). The PBL or AL leads to faculty development (FD) for professor or teacher as well as improvement of interpersonal skill and autonomous skill and so on for students.
