[AJS-02] Screening for sudden cardiac death in the young: Useful tool or wishful thinking

○ Jan Janousek (Children’s Heart Center, University Hospital Motol Prague, Czech)

Sudden cardiac death (SCD) in the young is a rare event. It occurs in 1.1/100,000 person-years between 1 – 18 years of age and 2.8/100,000 in a population.
