

Demonstration of the serpentinite dehydration at a laboratory in school

*Soichi Omori¹, Yukinobu Katsumata²

1. The Faculty of Liberal Arts, The Open University of Japan, 2. Natural and Environmental Sciences Program, The Open University of Japan

We report an experimental method to demonstrate the serpentine dehydration reaction at a laboratory in school. The aim of this study is illustrating the H₂O cycle between the surface environment and the mantle via hydrous minerals.

Keywords: hydrous mineral, serpentinite, dehydration reaction, labo experiment