

Let's build a bridge between "Rika" and society with new geography and geology education in class

*Naoki Hosaka¹

1. science writer

Science does not seem to work well when it comes to the consensus formation of modern society, such as global warming. It can be due to the lack of reality of science, although it closely related to the social agenda. New geography and geology education should be a bridge between science and society.

Keywords: science, society, global